

5 degree stool DNA Edition

For the recent FORMdna exhibition in London I have done a special edition of the 5 degree stool made entirely from a single board of 80 year old brazilian mahogany.

by Tomás Alonso

This is the original board; a brazilian mahagony sourced from our local traditional wood supplier in Stoke Newington, London.

The type, quality and tone of the wood combined with the turned back leg changes the character of the stool considerably. The idea of this limited edition is to make each stool by hand using specific locally sourced old fine wood boards. This is the first out of 10.
